About Me

I'm a Social Media & Community Manager passionate about the Web3 ecosystem, with 5+ years of experience in content creation, community growth, customer support, and digital strategy.

I help crypto projects boost their visibility, engagement, and user satisfaction across key platforms like X (Twitter), Telegram, Discord, and email.

I specialize in building strong communities and providing responsive support through interactive campaigns (AMAs, airdrops), KOL partnerships, and automation transforming passive audiences into loyal, engaged members.

My mission: to turn every community into a sustainable growth engine, while ensuring a seamless user experience.
